CO APP

A cultural movement — not just an app

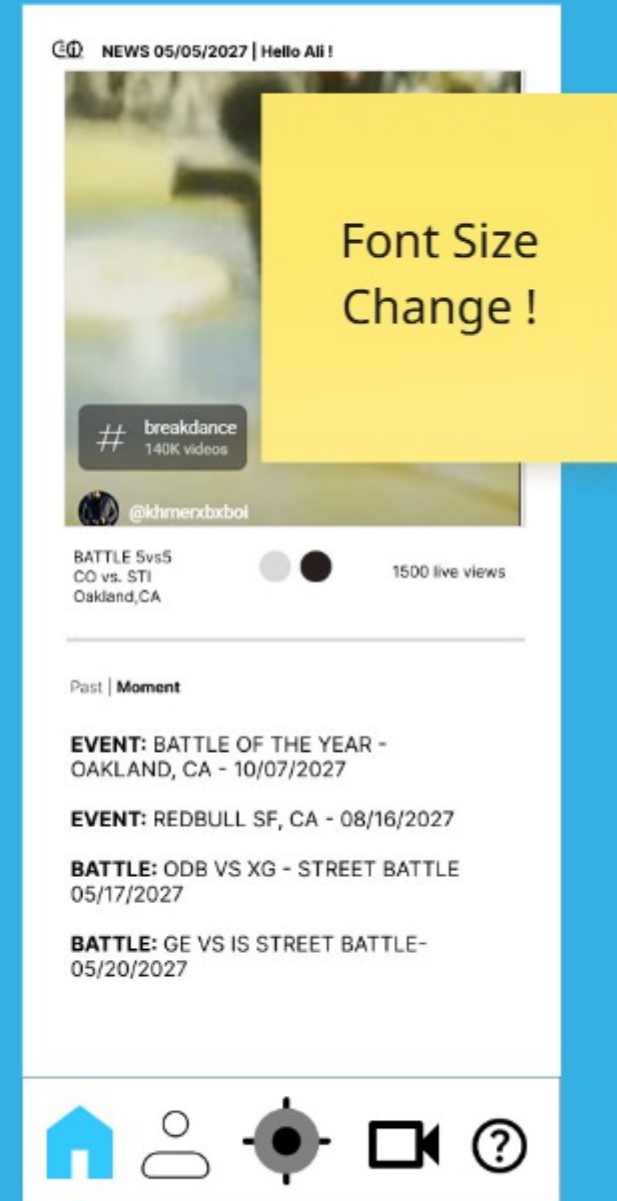

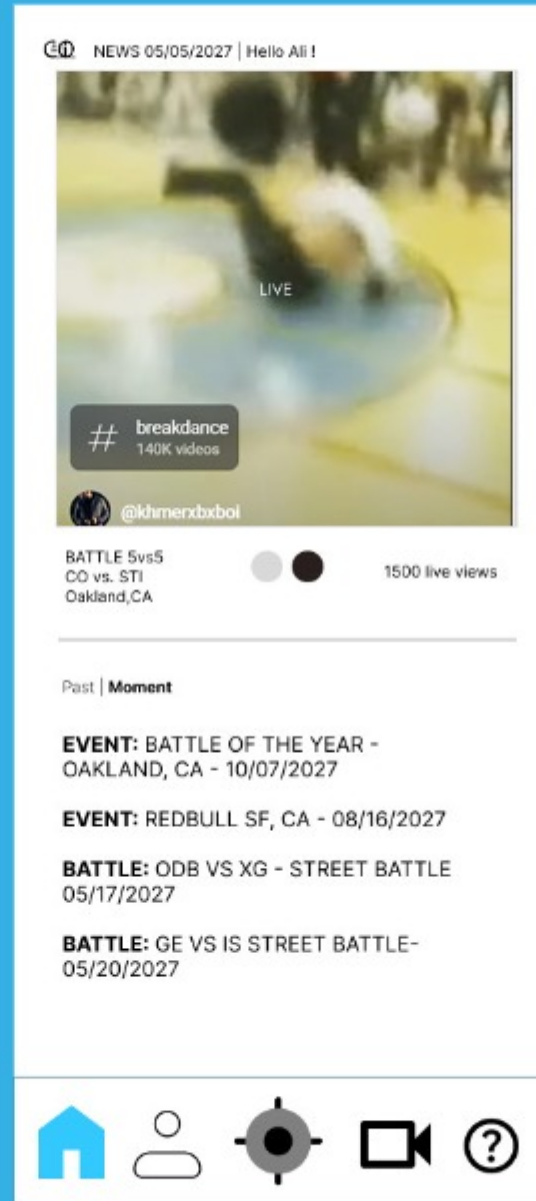

Hey everyone, I'm Bulli Sot, and this is the CO App, a platform built for dancers to connect, battle, and grow. CO stands for 'Critical Overdose,' a crew I've always been inspired by. This app is my way of giving back to the culture, especially to the youth in communities like mine who need something real to tap into. It's more than just a dance app, it's a space for expression, connection, and leveling up.

Problem: Fonts !

Usability Report

For this section, I adjusted the font because the user didn't like how small it was. I experimented with bolding and resizing to improve readability. This part features the live battle video, which is synced with YouTube. It also highlights both current and upcoming events.

GPS WORK WELL .

Usability Report

When people were using the CO app, I encouraged them to think like someone looking for a dance practice, battle updates, or wanting to join a battle. This helped individual users understand the app better! I was worried people might be confused, but thanks to apps like Lyft and Pokémon Go, they understood the power of GPS.
